

La Riba, Keymap

How to reach the area and the crags:

Coming from Barcelona, turn of the highroad in the direction Montblanc/Lleida. As you reach Montblanc, find the road through the city and continue in the direction of Reus on road C14. Turn of this road when you reach La Riba, continue through the village in the direction of Farena. About 2 kilometres after you have left La Riba you will see a camping ground at your right and shortly after another camping ground at your left. Park at the car park by the road outside this camping and follow the track to the crag.

The climbing outside La Riba and the Brugent valley goes back to the 30's, and the area was for a long time the biggest, offering more than 300 routes on different crags in the valley from La Riba up to Farena. However, it seems as the other areas is far more popular and many of the crags mentioned in old TOPOS was almost not accessible because the tracks where overgrown with thorny bushes and shrubs.

One area is still climbed often and during weekends you will meet a lot of local climbers here and the crags is nice for one or two days of climbing. The crag is also located so that it will be a nice stop if you are heading for the bigger supermarket in Montblanc.

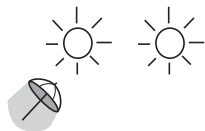

3.1. Park at the car park by the road outside the camping ground. Walk about 100 metres in the direction of Farena and turn of on a small track that leads down to the dry river bed. 100 metres further on your right this small crag offers a handful of short routes.

3.2. to 3.4. Park at the car park by the road outside the camping ground. Cross the road and follow the track in the direction of "la Penya Roja", the crag is visual from the road. The access takes about 5 minutes.

3.5. You reach this crag, "La Xina", by following the track that leads to sector 3.2. to 3.4. and then continue or take the easier and faster track that turns off to the right between the road and sector 3.2.
